

Zasluzni prof. dr. Ante Lauc

Zasluzni prof. dr. Ante Lauc je častni naslov prejel na Univerzi Hercegovine v BiH. Je akademik Hrvatske akademije znanosti in umetnosti v tujini, v Baslu, Švica, in akademik Hrvatske akademije znanosti in umetnosti (HAZU) v Mostarju, BiH. Leta 1964 je diplomiral iz psihologije na Filozofski fakulteti v Zagrebu, magistriral na fakulteti za Strojništvo in ladijske gradnje v Zagrebu 1973, ter 1975 doktoriral na Ekonomski fakulteti v Osijeku. Od takrat sistematično razvija človekov, fizični in finančni kapital, z raziskovanjem stopnje povratka. Še posebej je osredotočen na človekov kapital, ki ga razvija v treh sferah: moralni kapital, intelektualni kapital in socialni kapital. S soprogo Dunjo, dipl. ing. arh., ima dva sinova: Gordana (47) in Davorja (46) ter sedem vnukov. Čaka na pravnuke, da bi se ustvarila sinergija štirih generacij. Pred 17 leti je svoj delovni in znanstveni opus zaokrožil s knjigo Metodologija društvenih znanosti, v kateri preko šestih disciplin (biologija, filozofija, psihologija, tehnologija, ekonomija in pravo) in petih kriterijev (ekonomičnost, etičnost, ekologija, ekumenizem in estetika) izpelje štiri vrste razvoja (osebni, organizacijski, ekonomski in kulturni). Skupaj s sodelavci razvija Holistično avtopoietično univerzo, kjer želijo mladim omogočiti povezovanje preko interneta z najboljšimi profesorji v svetu, da bi živeli v ljubezni, resnici in svobodi.

Emeritus Professor Ante Lauc, PhD received his honorary title at the University of Herzegovina in Bosnia and Herzegovina. He is an academician of the Croatian Academy of Sciences and Arts in foreign countries, in Basel, Switzerland, and an academician of Croatian Academy of Sciences and Arts (HAZU) in Mostar, Bosnia and Herzegovina. He gained a degree in psychology at the Faculty of Arts in Zagreb in 1943, a master degree at the Faculty of Mechanical Engineering and Shipbuilding in Zagreb 1973, as well as obtained a PhD at the Faculty of Economics in Osijek in 1975. Since then he has been systematically developing human, physical and financial capital, researching rate of return. He has focused on developing the human capital in three spheres: moral capital, intellectual capital and social capital. With his wife Dunja, B. Arch., he has two sons: Gordan (47) and Davor (46), and seven grandchildren. He is waiting for great-grandchildren so that a synergy of four generations will be created. His working and scientific opus was gathered in a book Methodology of Social Sciences 17 years ago, in which he - through six disciplines (biology, philosophy, psychology, technology, economics and law) and five criteria (economy, ethics, ecology, ecumenism and aesthetics) - introduced four kinds of development (personal, organizational, economic and cultural). Together with his colleagues he is establishing a Holistic autopoietic university, which will enable the young to connect via the Internet with the best professors in the world, so that we would live in love, truth and freedom.
