

Erasmus+ Exchange Program on Faculty of Organisation Studies in Novo mesto
(From October till February 2015)

Darko Gazibara from Faculty of Organization and Informatics, University of Zagreb, Croatia

Going on exchange to the Faculty of Organisation Studies in Novo mesto, Slovenia, has been one of the best times of my life. Being part of the academic and social community there was an amazing and unique experience. Be it the incredibly vibrant Slovenian student culture; with its large variety of student clubs and/or events; every moment is memorable.

It seems to me that this is simply impossible to summarise my Erasmus adventure. There are too many experiences to describe

Why I decided to go in Novo mesto, Slovenia? Well, to be honest, I really want to break the stereotypes about Slovenia, get to know more about their culture, explore country and met new friends. Another fact is that I really had an amazing change to expand network, met business sector and get involved in so many activities.

When it comes to the faculty, I got tutor who induct me to the stuff, help me with the accommodation in dormitory and culture, which I'm really thankful for each minute spent with me. Also, hospitality from faculty staff is something really remarkable when you really feel how much they care about students and their needs. I met a lot of positive, open-minded people from all over the world. Why is that so?

As being part of AIESEC, world largest student organization, I had an opportunity with a team of inspiring individuals & motivator establish new local chapter in Novo mesto, giving opportunity to each student to expand & gain practical knowledge from fields project management, organizational development, sales, etc. Having another team in 3rd country so far, is something really remarkable for each individual, not mentioning how much work, fun & inspiring time we spent together on meetings & conferences.

*Nobody can explain to you what does an Erasmus exchange really means. If you have the opportunity to go on Erasmus, don't think twice. If you never try, you will never know! Go for it, enjoy it, feel it and live it! And then you try to describe your Erasmus history. You will understand what do I mean. It's only people that have enjoyed his experience can understand me.
You have to live it!*
